Former Crown Prince Carol In Seclusion

PARIS, July 23.—Former Crown Prince Carol, of Roumania who is disappointed deeply over the failure of his family to call him to the Roumanian throne in succession to his father, the late King Ferdinand, has gone into seclusion.
Only the closest friends of Carol were able to communicate with him.
They declared that he is plunged in grief and is determined to take no hasty action which might embarrass his mother, Queen Marie, and the present regime in Bucharest.
It is understood that Carol's sister,
Queen Marie, of Yugoslavia, sent him a message asking him urgently not to issue any statement regarding his royal ambitions nor to take any action of any kind to further his ambition until after the funeral of Ferdinand on Sunday.

While Carol had prepared a manifesto addressed to the Roumanian people to be published Monday, he may delay the issuance of it.
Close friends of Carol deny that he insists upon being called "your majesty." They said that he is content to be called "Prince" or "your highness" as of yore.

Work Will Start On New Building In Near Future

J. C. Gilfillan Gets Contract For General Construc- tion Work.

OTHER CONTRACTS ALSO AWARDED

Expected That Work On New Euclid Avenue School Will Be Rushed.

Contracts for the new junior high school to be built on Euclid avenue were let to four contractors at a total cost of $562,060 at the meeting of the New Castle School Board held
Friday evening, July 22.

General contract was let to the J. Clyde Gilfillan Lumber Company of New Castle at the price of $414,261.
The bid on the original specifications was $418,333 but two alternates were accepted which reduced the cost by $4,069. These alternates consisted of the use of rubberstone floor in the manual training department, and the omission of smoke screens.

Other Awards

The contract for heating and ventilating was let to the Wm. M. Clark Company, Inc., of New Castle at a cost of $28,450 including three alternates on the original specifications, using an automatic stoker, stationary galvanized ventilators and the National system of thermostatic control.

Contract for the plumbing of the building was let to the R. T. Withers Sons Company of New Castle at a cost of $29,409.

The Ochiltree Electric Company of Pittsburgh, Pa., received the contract for the electrical work at a cost of $25,483. Two alternates were accepted by the Board including an emergency system with the P-O Electric Company and the International regulating system on the clock.

Although the Board had the different bids and alternates under consideration since the meeting Tuesday evening, much discussion and endeavor was made to reduce the cost of the building. In the final vote three members of the board, Mrs.
Rose Nothdurft, J. H. McIlvenny, and James L. Love voted against the motion on account of the amount of the bids.

Mr. Love in explaining why he voted in the negative expressed the opinion of the other two members of the Board when he said that they approved of the plans and specifications and all the material used with the improvements such as the stoker for the heating system, but that they thought the building could have been built at the maximum figure originally planned of $500,000.

Prince Carol Not To Start Trouble

Not Responsible However If Friends In Roumania Initiate Move.

By WILLIAM P. CARNEY International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, July 23.—Prince Carol may consider himself the rightful King of Roumania but he told the International News Service today that he will not "initiate any political disturbances" in Roumania. He did not say, however, what his course might be if his supporters in Roumania raised a demand for his return.

Prince Carol received today a message from his brother, Prince Nicholas, a member of the regency council, replying to Prince Carol's message, suggesting that he would like to attend the funeral of King Ferdinand. Prince Nicholas in a courteous message said that it is "too soon" to arrange for even the temporary return of Prince Carol.

Prince Carol said he considered the message from his brother satisfactory and that he is sure everyone in Roumania realizes the deep desire he had to attend the funeral. "I have not proclaimed myself king," Prince Carol told the International News Service today. "If my dear friends consider me king, I cannot help that."

Referring to the letter King Ferdinand left urging Prince Carol not to attempt to return to Bucharest, the Prince said: "I think my father knew I would do nothing to upset Roumanian harmony. I personally will never initiate any political disturbance in my country."

Prince Carol intends to attend memorial services for King Ferdinand in the Roumanian church in Paris tomorrow.

There's one advantage in a small fleet. It will be harder for air craft to hit with bombs.

DIVORCEES NOT POPULAR, MARRIAGES LASTING IN INDIA

The idea of love at first sight, it is an accepted rule in this land of the Far East. A bridegroom, particularly if of Mohammedan faith, does not know whether his veiled bride is beautiful or not until after the ceremony.

"Possibly this custom accounts for the small number of old maid in India," laughs the slender, attractive maiden from Delhi.

Taking care of a home is the only career for which the majority of native girls are prepared. "Children twelve and fourteen years old are given in marriage to a man chosen by their parents," Miss Arlick tells, "although an attempt is being made to raise the legal age to sixteen."

"Despite their lack of freedom, my countrywomen do not seem unhappy," she muses. "As you pass along the street, you can always hear them singing gaily to each other while they grind the meal in small stone mills. Such scenes as Lady Astor and Jane Addams are greatly admired. 'Only one per cent of the women in my land are educated,' Miss Arlick tells. 'But these hold important positions in schools, child welfare work, medicine and politics. Last year Sarojini Naidu, probably the most accomplished living poet of India who writes in English, was unanimously elected president of the National Congress.'"

"So you see," she concludes, "we women of India have great hope for the future, but there is a vast amount of work to be done."

Twenty Class Rooms
This addition to the senior high school is to consist of 20 classrooms built on the southeast corner of the present senior high school building. A heating plant of the latest kind is to be installed which will take care of the new addition as well as the older portion of the building.

The addition is being planned so that in the future additional class rooms and gymnasium and other rooms may be added to the west of the present addition.

The school board at a meeting some weeks ago when considering an addition to the senior high school originally considered a much larger addition than they now are contemplating. The original plans called for an addition with an estimated cost of $280,000 including a large gymnasium and other rooms with about 26 class rooms. On account of the large expenditure of money that would be necessary to accomplish this, the board decided to ask the architect to revise the plans so as to bring the cost down within reach.

been able to get work a part of the time. They had rooms in an apartment. John Braley, wife and child, also had rooms in the same apartment and he was out of work.

Thursday Smith and Braley decided to look for work elsewhere. They said that they would first go to Canton, O., and then to Pittsburgh. The next that was heard of them was at New Castle junction. Conductor Van Orsdale of Connellsville reported he had seen two men get off B. & O. freight No. 94 when it stopped for a target. The men got off on the opposite side from Van Orsdale and one of them fell through the railroad bridge to the Shenango river.

Van Orsdale reported to the police department. The Mahoning company ambulance was summoned and with the aid of some railroad men, Smith was rescued from the river and taken to the New Castle hospital.

What became of Braley is not known. It is said that he was present when Smith was rescued, but disappeared immediately afterwards. Those who rescued Smith managed to get his place of residence from him and that was all. He became unconscious and remained in that condition until death came.

When Mrs. Smith received word that her husband was seriously injured she had no money, but a friend of her husband, Edward Gray, came to her assistance and furnished her with transportation to New Castle. The Travelers Aid society of Akron sent a telegram to the Y. W. C. A. of this city to meet the woman and her seven-month-old child at the train. This was done and Mrs. Smith is now at the Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. authorities got into communication with Mrs. Smith's father, George Lee, at Lumberport, W. Va. This morning and he will be here to assist with the funeral arrangements. The body of Smith is at the Ritchie morgue.

Chamberlin Will Hop Off In Plane From Leviathan

WASHINGTON, July 23.—As a first test of the feasibility of speeding up the trans-Atlantic mail and passenger service, Clarence D. Chamberlin, New York to Berlin aviator, has accepted an invitation of the shipping board to hop off from the Leviathan in an airplane on her next trip to Europe.

The first hop-off will be made when the vessel is on its way back to New York from Boston, where it is undergoing repairs.

With the knowledge gained from this hop, Chamberlin will be able to prepare to transport an airplane on the ship when she sails for Europe on August 1.

If weather conditions are favorable, Chamberlin will leave the ship when she is some hundreds of miles from Europe with one or two passengers.

BOOTLEGGERS IN BUFFALO DUBBED AS ARISTOCRATS

nadian distilleries within 40 miles of the city are regular shippers to the district. Hamilton beer retailers in Buffalo and Niagara Falls for 30 cents a pint. Smuggled whiskey is available at $5 a quart, but is rejected in favor of Buffalo's own product which undersells the import trade from half dollar to a dollar a quart. Buffalo boasts six breweries of her own, supplemented by one at Tonawanda and one at Niagara Falls within 25 miles of the north.

Small Border Patrol.
Fifteen men, with three motor boats, constitute the entire force of the border patrol—less than one man to every ten miles of coast line if distributed evenly throughout the Buffalo customs territory.

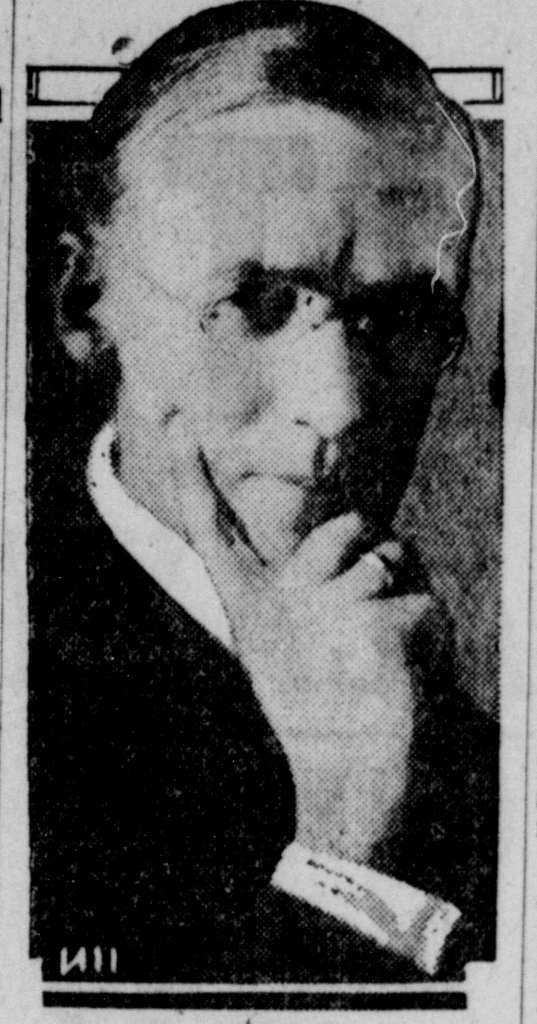

United States customs officials here, who are notified by Canadian authorities, under the terms of the rum trade between the United States and Canada, of every liquor shipment cleared from Ontario ports for the United States, estimate that the legally billed whiskey shipments for the year ended July 1 aggregated $20,000,000. At least an equal amount, they estimate was sent to the American side without clearance at Canadian customs houses.

Grand Island, United States resort in the Niagara river midway between Buffalo and Niagara Falls, is the "pesthole" of river smuggling operations. Customs officials assert "there is not a resident on the island who could not lead our men to a liquor cache." This does not refer to summer residents, of course. Fifteen miles long and half as wide, the island is the summer homeland of numerous wealthy families of the Buffalo district.

The island is United States territory. Five bands of American smugglers base their operations here. Their speed boat shipments run into Lake Erie as far as Westfield, Dunkirk and Silver Creek, N. Y. Supplementing this supply along the American coast south of the falls are thousand-case shipments of beer and ale from Port Colborne, Ontario, directly across Lake Erie from Dunkirk. Two-thirds of the Buffalo customs seizures, which have netted more than 3,000 cases of ale in less than a month, are in the open lake.

Oberlin College, in Ohio, one of the oldest colleges west of the Alleghenies, now has one of the youngest presidents in the country. He is Dr. Ernest H. Wilkins, forty-seven, formerly of the University of Chicago.

Blackrock add to the staggering responsibility of Buffalo's 14 border patrol operatives. The magnitude of the rail shipments from the Canadian side is suggested by the recent seizure of seven carloads of London beer in a single haul in the New York Central yards. The bridge traffic must be watched constantly for touring cars with false bottoms loaded with Canadian whiskey.

Expanding hijacking operations in New York and Pennsylvania have menaced the island shipments from Buffalo during the last three months. So damaging have these inroads been to the trade that a group of American shippers known in the trade as the "better element" have entered into a formal agreement pledging their efforts to stamp out the "roughnecks."

Prohibition operatives cite a case of a truck shipped who lost every Buffalo shipment for three consecutive weeks. The aggregate value of the cargoes was approximately $25,000.

By concentrating upon the public docks and improved harbor ports, the federal coast patrol forces here have virtually driven the smuggling operations from the larger lake vessels. Save for an occasional hand-bag container landed from a passenger vessel, the entire district is supplied by small power boats and 70-foot cabin cruisers plying the lakes and river, by falsely billed railroad shipments, and by concealed automobile cargoes of five to 20 cases.

Receipts Will Be Given Proprietors Of Dance Halls

In the enforcement of the new law governing dance halls in townships, it has been discovered by the district attorney, that no license blanks are available here, as yet, probably due to the newness of the law.

For this reason, arrangements have been made with County Treasurer David E. Nesbitt, who issues such licenses, to issue receipts, which must be posted in a conspicuous place, in place of the license, until such time as license blanks can be printed and issued in the place of the receipts.

County Detective William Fleming and assisting officers last night started the investigation of the township dance halls in Lawrence county to determine whether or not they should be granted licenses under the provisions of the new law.

Owing to the fact that the licensing of dance halls in townships just went into effect on June 1, none of the dance halls in such districts have as yet obtained licenses. They will be required to secure licenses without delay, providing their places are in accordance with the law and properly conducted, or else make the owners liable to the fine that may be imposed for violations such as this.

LETTERS TO THE NEWS

AIRPORT LOCATION
Editor News, New Castle, Pa.

I see by the News of July 19 we are about to have an airport and air lines here in a short time. Good! It makes me feel like flying. I always like to welcome all good things to New Castle.

But why not locate our airport in our own city. Why go three or four miles into the country or nearly half way to New Wilmington to locate such an important station as an airport when a field of this kind can be located within three-quarters of a mile and in sight of our town post office, and can be reached by auto in eight minutes from our present post office?

Undoubtedly the air mail and express service is the coming thing in the next decade. The question is the one big question in the minds of big thinking men today and New Castle must bestir herself at once and see that our first airport is located right in our midst.

From now on we should see to it that every big new enterprise coming our way enters at the front gate. I believe this is the business of our newly formed Chamber of Commerce. It is the business of all of its newly made 600 members to take up this important matter at once and see that all such business is landed in the proper place, so as to give New Castle the best and shortest route out of town.

Then being located where every ship that lands on and starts from can be seen from any point in our city. This starting point can be seen from our postoffice, from both the north and east sides of town as well as from the west and south. It can be seen down the valley about 15 or 20 miles the other side of New Castle or Lawrence junctions. Some 100 or 200 acres can be secured if necessary. If we are to have an aviation field at all, why not have it in the right place?

In a short time it will mean the manufacturing of airplanes in this place. It will mean millions of dollars to New Castle and will put New Castle right on the map proper. It is as essential to locate our aviation station at the right point as it is our railroad stations in our city. If we can get in touch with Pittsburgh and New Orleans by water, we can get in touch with the cities of the world by air-line. A great air harbor, a great terminal of this sort will draw business from all four corners of the world. Much can be said along this line for the good of New Castle.

Peace And Quiet In All Roumania

Change In Occupant Of Throne Brings About No Disorders.

By O. D. TOLISCHUS International News Service Staff Correspondent

BUCHAREST, July 23.—"There is peace and quiet throughout all Roumania and there is no reason why it should not continue," declared minister of the interior Richard Franasovici to the International News Service today, when asked concerning reports of possible political upheavals.

Dr. William Wallace and Dr. C. C. Dickey have offered their services for medical examinations, a resident nurse will be on hand to take care of the girls and Nick Castillo and Mr. Norton, Boy Scout life guards, will remain on duty to give swimming instructions.

Miss Cox will arrive August 6 and meet with the scout leaders at the camp, to organize the rules before the opening camp on the following Monday.

Summer Camp And Vacations Hit "Y"

The local Y. M. C. A. appears almost deserted these days. The only place that anyone can be found during the daytime is at the office, in the reading room in the swimming pool, although at dinner and supper time the cafeteria draws a large crowd.

According to Robert L. Meermans, general secretary of the local institution, no activities are being carried on there at the present time, just because there is no one there to run them.

He says that: "the slack time of the 'Y' is during July and August. During these two months our summer camp on the Slippery Rock creek is open. It is the main attraction then. This takes the 'Y' boys from the city and no one is left to take part in the activities. The pool tables are quite an attraction then but during hot weather everybody wants to stay outside."

John Leonard, in charge of the boys at the "Y", is conducting the activities at the summer camp and is unable to take charge out there and in town too.

Trespass Summons Filed In Court

A summons in trespass indicating an action for damages, has been filed at the office of Prothonotary R. M. Campbell by Miss Frances Spiker a teacher in the Neshannock township schools, through her father and next friend, Joseph Spiker against Albert L. Johnson. It is made returnable the first Monday in September. Indications are that the case had its inception in the controversy that has been in existence in Neshannock township school affairs for some time past. The statement of claim will be filed later.

Subway Workers Postpone Strike

NEW YORK, July 23.—The threatened strike of all the subway employees of the Borough Rapid Transit company, the Brooklyn Manhattan Railroad Co. and the Brooklyn City Railroad Co. has been postponed until next Tuesday through the intervention of Mayor Walker.

The mayor has summoned a conference of the representatives of the men in his office at 2:30 this afternoon when he hopes to take steps to avert a strike entirely.

NOT A JOB FOR THE SOLDIER

THE Philippines will be most strikingly affected if the government carries out President Coolidge's idea of creating a new civil bureau to supervise administration of all insular possessions now under the jurisdiction of the war and navy departments. Such a bureau would remove the obvious inconsistency of maintaining under military control a possession to which this country has promised steadfastly a progressive furtherance of self-government. It would eliminate one of the most cogent of Filipino grievances by ending the rather tactless authority of the group of army officers who have been serving as assistants, aides and confidential advisors to Governor General Wood. And it would carry out the original plan for governing the Philippines.

The archipelago is no longer conquered territory needing military overlordship, but a rich and peaceful dependency in which the problems are those of civil administration and economic development. And a military government was never designed to meet such problems.

There is, of course, nothing new in the proposal to put the Philippines under civilian authority. In his message to the last congress the president recommended it and a bill for that very purpose was introduced, though not pressed, in that congressional session.

In advocating civilian administration the chief executive did not admit that military control has failed. Civilians might govern the islands no better but there would be no guns and uniforms to fan the fires of nationalism. Political dependency goes down twice as hard when it is administered by armed men.

LINDBERGH'S AMERICAN AIR TOUR

COLONEL CHARLES A. LINDBERGH'S air tour of seventy-five cities throughout the United States approximates the ideal combination of a dignified and dramatic presentation of a popular hero.

Probably there is not a hamlet within the limits of the nation whose people did not yearn to do him honor. He had been hounded and tempted by hundreds of offers which promised huge monetary rewards, but which were clearly based upon the commercial and sometimes unworthy exploitation of his name and fame. Instead of "cashing in," as so many thought he would, this world ideal of our young manhood has shown that he stands upon sturdy fundamentals of high character, unselfishness and independence. The value of his conduct as a shining inspiration to our youth has been incalculable.

That he should devote himself to the promotion of the art of aviation was a logical and happy solution of the problem of his future employment. It is characteristic of him that a tour calling for visits to seventy-five cities should have been undertaken with complete nonchalance. A bit more room beside his seat in the "Spirit of St. Louis" to accommodate a traveling bag, and he was on his way, flying alone as usual, though an official plane of the United States Department of Commerce with a crew of two will follow him from place to place.

LEGAL REFORM

NEED for legal reform continues to be a topic for consideration by many agencies. Within a week the New York Association of Grand Jurors, former Senator George Wharton Pepper and Judge Henry Fuller, of Pennsylvania, expressed thoughts on the subject.

Some are of the opinion that fault lies among the lawyers themselves. The verdict of others, including Judge Fuller, places the blame upon "ill-advised modern legislation." And, of course, the courts come in for their share of blame.

Judge Fuller speaks of "loss of respect for law under ill-advised modern legislation," and Senator Pepper finds that the practice of law, once a profession, has become a business that must be regulated by more drastic rules of conduct than in the past. The New York grand jurors are of the opinion that many lawyers strongly oppose the enforcement of certain laws and, by their opposition, prevent, in a measure, such enforcement.

Despite Senator Pepper, it is likely that the percentage of lawyers who can be trusted with freedom of control is as large today as ever. Neither is the proportion of unwise and silly laws greater nor the efficiency and integrity of the courts lower. In other words, there is no more need today for legal reform than there always has been. It is not a new question, but one that is painfully slow in settlement.

So many agencies have pointed different ways which must be taken that one comes to the conclusion the shortest way will be to follow all the ways suggested. A little teamwork between bar, bench, legislature and jury should bring about all the reform necessary.

As long as lawyers, judges and jurors fall short of perfection there will be a crying need for legal reform. A long time, indeed!

Expecting nothing is an excellent way to get ditto.

Drunken motorists should be deprived of their licenses—after completing their jail terms.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 7:34. Sun rises tomorrow 4:49.

A Wheeling lady was supposed to be in bed suffering from a fractured limb, but prohibition agents raided the bed and found 90 pints of West Virginia moonshine under the covers along with the lady. One cannot even sleep with moonshine any more with safety.

A Washington man was sent to jail for six months for spanking his wife because she had her hair bobbed. He even grabbed her by the remaining locks to get a hold on her so he could hold her over his knee while he lambasted her. Th' brute!

The new postmaster of New Castle is not only a member of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce, but was also an active and aggressive worker in the recent Expansion Movement furthered by the local Chamber of Commerce. He believes that those who seek public favor should do their share in promoting civic activities.

State Highway authorities are protesting against candidates for office plastering the poles, trees and fences along the roads with their cards. Candidates should not do this and it does very little good as those who ride over the roads go so fast they cannot read the cards anyhow.

The Hints and Dints Man blames the dizziness he feels occasionally on reading circular letters.

We heard of a bird recently married who hid himself to a hardware store when his wife sent him down town to get her a brassiere. The dumbhead.

A beautiful woman gets talked about. The homely women do the talking.

We have a tomato vine in our garden that has about forty small tomatoes on it and one of them is about ripe. The tomatoes are small, about the size of a walnut and grow in bunches like grapes. We think it is sort of a grapevine. It's a spirit all right. Most of our other tomato plants have nothing on them except leaves.

Married women cannot land on Cuban soil without permits from their husbands if they go there from other countries. There are yet some things that a man has control over his wife on and this is one if she wants to go to Cuba.

People who are independent in politics should vote the independent ticket and run for office on that ticket and not as Republicans. We would far rather see a Democrat in office than one who just represents himself.

"Let's go home, Mamma, I'm hungry," were the first words of the wee king of Roumania after he had been proclaimed king. Just a boy after all, even if he is a king.

New Castle will elect a mayor this fall. He should be a man who has more ability than to just fine a poor canned heat drinker a big fine or wink at the laws of this city. He should not be a fanatical wet or dry. Several hundred citizens of New Castle are just now trying to make this city a great industrial center and they cannot do it if a man is elected mayor who might be a good mayor in New Wilmington or Harlansburg. Great industrial centers are not built around pinheads. The mayor of a city means more to that city than most people think—even to those who do think once in a while. Big industries do look to the official of a city and if we do not have ones that impress them favorably, it's goodbye and also farewell to new industries. Use that thing on your head for something else than hanging your hat on this fall. No reflection on previous mayors.

We read of a man who drove his horse and wagon in a reckless manner and side swiped an automobile. It isn't often a horse and wagon gets away with anything on the roads these days.

The radio is a great thing, but the thing you can depend upon with your life when you need the thing most is the wire both phone and telegraph.

WELL, IT WAS READ, ANYWAY. It is not nice to mess up a newspaper and leave it untidy in a street car or other public conveyance. Such a disregard of decency and display of thoughtlessness was recently made the subject of a sermon by the Rev. Dr. Karl Reiland, rector of St. George's Episcopal Church, New York.

Dr. Reiland said that he noticed a gentleman fold his newspaper neatly and lay it on the seat beside him when he left the car. A fellow passenger took the paper and read it while crossing the ferry where he took a train for Philadelphia. Continuing Dr. Reiland added:

"The fellow passenger, too, folded the paper when he finished reading it and later a brakeman asked if he might take it."

"He read it, rolled it tightly, tied it with a string and tossed it off at a crossing where the train did not stop. An old flagman picked it up, read it and gave it to a little girl who called for it just before the noon hour."

"She carried it home where two elderly people read it, and that evening a woman came, chatted a moment and went away with the newspaper to her little house a quarter of a mile away, where, by the light of the evening lamp, she read laboriously to an aged father and mother which early in the day was read and folded in the subway in New York."

"That may not have been the end; probably was not."

One of the new traffic signals is: "Detour to the right, around this cloud."

"AND WOMEN MUST WEEP" Down by the road to yesterday Sat a youth and a maiden fair, He talked of her eyes, and he talked of her cheeks, Of her lips, and the gold of her hair.

Well, the story is old and it's often told, But a maid will believe just the same, She waits where love glowed, by the side of the road— But he's even forgotten her name!

Those people who have been on vacation are coming home now and asking themselves the same old question: "where in blazes did all the money go?"

Sacco and Vanzetti may feel they are being persecuted in being under sentence of death for murder, but they are not making and friends for themselves by their statements and hunger strikes. If they strike long enough the desired end might be accomplished without the state doing its work.

It always seems to happen that the biggest frauds in the world have the greatest dignity. When a very dignified man comes to you to sell you some oil stock, be careful.

It is good news to hear that the Edenburg road may be given a surface of concrete this fall or next spring. That is an important road and should be improved. We are for good roads all over the county and think every part should be favored. But it is impossible to build all the roads at one time and they should be built in the order of their importance.

Eighty per cent of all the automobiles in the world are in the United States, but with the number of auto deaths this summer perhaps the percentage has been increased to 82%.

Movie: A place where people go to cough.

The Lions club is having its road sign repainted this year. A great many people have been attracted by these signs, which are the only ones in and around New Castle. These signs are welcome to the eyes when coming into New Castle and show that the Lions club believes in the city.

Why not have some of the American flyers fly to Nicaragua and perhaps the bloodshed there will be forgotten in the welcome extended.

The Bad Lands of the west won't be so very bad when the returns come in on the next Presidential election. Coolidge just naturally overcomes all the Bad Lands opposition.

Some people insist that the five-cent cigar has come back for good, while others saw for better or worse with emphasis on the worse.

Friends are those whose misfortunes please us only a little.

There is an old saying that a man who squeezes a dollar never squeezes his wife. After going over in our mind some men of the city we can think if we want to that there are some women here who never get much attention.

If the nations in battle could fight with the same tenacity and persistency as they are battling at Geneva for the battleships and size of guns, war would be a terrible thing.

To pretend is just to confess that you're ashamed of what you are.

A monument is to be erected to a Percheron horse in a western state. It is about time. There are a number of cat hospitals in the country and the horse at least should have a monument. The dog too should be immortalized in some way.

Former Senator James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois says it is time for the Democrats to name a western man for the Presidency. There is a fine spirit of fair play in what the Illinois man says. Let a few western Democrats get licked too, the East has been beaten often enough.

Corn is nearly up to normal in this county and that is good news. We need the corn and the hot weather has been doing the work and therefore we want to see it get hot and stay hot.

The man who was given six months in jail for beating his wife because she had her hair bobbed is a lion. The women who don't have their hair bobbed these days are few and far between and why not have all women look alike.

"The lie of the land" no longer refers to doubling your money on a lot in 30 days.

The three things that make time fly are pleasures, age and the installment plan.

A hoel advertises it is "just like home," but doesn't explain why it is deserted.

How times change! When the first sin occurred in Eden, it was the man who blamed the woman.

Because They Like It.
One Tired, One Hungry.
An Octopus Row.
O. H. Kahn, Wise Father.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1927, By N. Y. American, Inc.)

Why do intelligent human beings pay a million dollars to see a prize fight? Why do twenty million people eagerly listen to radio details of swines, tabs, left and right hooks, etc.? A solemn editor says it is because men are interested in "spectacles of rivalry" and points to the interest in Lindbergh's arrival.

That doesn't answer the question. How many would have paid $125 to see Lindbergh from front row seats, or $15 to look at him from the last row?

Americans paid more than a million dollars Thursday night to see a prize fight because they like prize fights—and keenly enjoy fighting especially when somebody else does the fighting.

Kingship is on the wane. Ferdinand of Rumania dies saying sadly, "I feel so tired." And his grandson, Prince Michael, aged five, weeps at his inaugural and says, "Let's go home, mamma, I'm hungry."

Ferdinand of Rumania, born and educated in Germany, member of the Hohenzollern family, sided with the allies against the Hohenzollerns, when that seemed the wise thing. He didn't enjoy it.

His little grandson doesn't know what all the noise means, and nobody need envy him.

A quarrel is on in the prosperous Standard Oil family. Standard Oil of New York buys oil from wicked Russian Bolsheviks. Standard of New Jersey says "We would not touch that wicked oil. We won't buy anything from Russia until she learns to respect private property." But Standard Oil brothers should not rebuke each other. Standard Oil mamma octopus allowed herself to be cut into little pieces, each now worth as much as the original mamma, little dreaming that her children would quarrel. Big corporations should fight privately, never in public.

A wise father lets his son do what he wants, within reason, for what a boy wants to do, is usually what he can do best.

One of his boys liked music and wanted to lead a jazz band. Kahn said: "Go ahead and lead it." He knew the jazz band fit would not last long.

Now his son, Roger, 19 years old, has taken to flying, is his own pilot, and skilful. That does not make his father and mother sleep more soundly, probably, but Mr. Kahn says: "Go ahead and fly."

If more Americans with money would let their boys fly—as thousands of normal American boys would like to fly—this country would soon lead the world in aviation.

France, according to an American banker, "has so much money that French bankers hardly know what to do with it." Good news, the greater French prosperity the better for the world.

New York also is prosperous, "reservoirs of credit are literally overflowing." There is a plethora of money.

Some people that try to borrow don't find it so, but the trouble may be with their collateral.

The able Dudley Field Malone and his intellectual wife, who continued after marriage to call herself "Miss Doris Stevens," decide on a divorce, and ask Paris kindly to provide one.

Friends say this brilliant intellectual couple "could not get along because they had equally strong minds." That's unusual. As a rule the wife has the stronger mind, does not let the husband know it, and everything goes smoothly. That's the wise plan.

Postmaster General Now is to be congratulated on the suggestion of a mammoth post office building in New York to cost $30,000,000 and include shipyard landings on the roof. To those air landings fast elevators would carry the air mail, and from the high roof the mail planes would be launched, as planes are launched from the decks of battleships. That's progress.

Seventy years old today is Dr. Albert B. Shaw, noted editor and publicist and for many years publisher of the American Review of Reviews. A native of Ohio, Dr. Shaw was educated at Iowa College and subsequently attended John Hopkins University as a post-graduate. While engaged in editorial work in the West Dr. Shaw made a thorough study of industrial and agricultural developments and became an ardent student of municipal government and of the problems of city life. After several years of travel and study in Europe he gave a series of lectures at Johns Hopkins, Michigan and other universities. In 1890 he was chosen professor of international law and political institutions at Cornell University, which position he held when he was invited to establish in New York, as editor and manager, a magazine to be known as the American Review of Reviews.

THE TROUBLES OF THE SOVIETS

The Soviets are having trouble. Great Britain recently severed relations with the Russian government and Canada promptly followed suit.

There has been much difficulty between the Soviet government and the United States. America has never recognized the Soviet political machine.

What is the matter? The matter is that the Bolshevik government fails to recognize the fundamental necessity of all governments, which is to mind its own business, regulate the internal affairs of its own country and let other nations alone.

The Soviet Republic is a communist system imposed by a few Bolsheviks upon an immense population that can hardly be said to be in favor of it except as it does not yet see any better.

Communism is more than a political theory. It almost has the fanaticism of a religion. Its fundamental idea is that the whole capitalist system is wrong and that it is the religious duty of the people to overthrow it.

This necessitates the overturning of the United States government, that of England and of most other countries which by a long period of evolution have established a capitalist civilization.

In the last analysis a capitalist civilization is simply one where a man's property is his own to do with as he pleases so long as he does not injure his neighbors. The Communist theory is that his property belongs to the state.

The theory of the English-speaking people, especially is that government should have as little to do with him as possible. That theory has thrived immensely and is responsible for the wide spread of English-speaking civilization.

That the Russian idea will be able to overthrow this Anglo-Saxon idea is problematic.

It would be much better for Russia to confine herself to developing the welfare of her own people and demonstrate the success of her socialistic ideas within her own borders. After Communism had been proved a success at home it might have some chance of succeeding abroad.

But for an unworkable and bankrupt idea to undertake to overturn the world and convert it is absurd.

MY TOWNS—BALTIMORE
Baltimore is a town with a flavor. It has an atmosphere that to me, has always been most inviting. Whenever there is the slightest excuse, I stop a day or two in Baltimore. I love the old book stores, the winding streets, the cozy little stores and eating places that are two or three steps down from the sidewalks, on the hillsides. The streets are not quite wide enough for comfortable handling of heavy traffic, but they are just the right width for picturesque appearance.

One never likes to agree with anybody who says his is the best town in the world. One suspects that the fellow is afflicted with old-fashioned local pride. Yet it is difficult to find points on which to disagree with Henry Mencken, who criticizes the world quite severely at times, but always makes an exception of Baltimore, his home town. The fact is, Baltimore appears to be at least one non-resident being almost as wholesome a place as Mencken pictures it.

Of course there have to be people to make a town really likeable. You can pile up all the scenery in the world and all the picturesqueness in the catalog, and you've a dead town unless you get congenial inhabitants.

In Baltimore I have found some of the most delightful people. They seem to be gifted with a wide and human tolerance that is difficult to find in many cities. There's only one subject that I have found them a bit intolerant about. They do insist that other cities can't begin to compare with Baltimore in point of civilization. Well, perhaps we can grant them that one harmless foible, since they are so generous on other topics.

What makes a city's character? That is a big question. There are cities, you know, that have almost no character. Baltimore has character to burn. It takes an old resident of a town to sense the factors that have gone into the building of the city's personality. I'm inclined to think that the Sunpapers have had as much to do with making Baltimore what it is, intellectually and spiritually, as any other one force.

But that's an outsider's opinion, or impression, at best.

Storm Damage Heavy In Mercer

Estimate Deluge Caused $10,000 Loss—Small Bridges Washed Out.

TRAIN IS MAROONED FOR SEVERAL HOURS

(Special To The News)
MERCER, Pa., July 23.—Damage to the amount of $10,000 is a conservative estimate to be placed to the effect of the terrific downpour of rain that fell late Friday evening. For a period of two hours the rain fell in torrents as devastating as a cloudburst.

Streets of the town were filled from curb to curb and two bridges were washed out on the Greenville Run and considerable damage to goods in basements of residents and stores on the low-lying districts.

On account of two washouts on the Pennsylvania railroad the north-bound passenger train due at Mercer at 6:34 was marooned at the Mercer station all night and was not able to proceed until an early hour this morning. The evening trains of the Bessemer railroad were not able to get to the Mercer depot on account of the floods.

A crew of 100 men worked on the tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad all night in order to repair the damage and allow the trains to proceed. The right of way was opened to traffic early this morning. As the flood stage falls it is likely that the Bessemer trains may be able to run into the Mercer station late today.

Burgess Paul Terhune estimated the damage done to the streets of Mercer at about $3,000. Besides two bridges on the Greenville Run were washed out when this stream reached the highest flood stage ever reported in the history of the community. One bridge is on the street leading to the Renz stove plant while the other is that one crossing the stream on North Pitt street. The Pitt street bridge went out early in the evening while the Renz bridge let go about 10 o'clock last night.

Ernest Bowman the East Market street merchant reports considerable damage to goods stored in his basement which was entirely flooded by the torrents.

Damage to the crops in the out-lying district cannot be estimated but it will likely go into thousands of dollars. Standing grain is reported beaten down while damage to fruit and garden crops is reported to be very heavy.

Both companies depart with full strength, all members reporting. The local units will leave in special Pullman cars with the regular 7:30 train for Butler. At Butler they will join with the Butler unit and continue to Mt. Gretna. The following officers and soldiers take leave: Capt. and Commanding Officer Frank N. Phelan, Sec. Lieut. James A. Considerable interest is being shown in Grove City concerning the northwestern tennis tournament which is being held this year at Oil City, Pa. G. G. Forquer, president of the organization, states that there will be a large entry list from Grove City. Already four ladies have entered the tournament: Miss Mary Porter, Mrs. George Saxton, Miss Jane Simmons and Miss Genevieve Davis, all of Grove City. There will be at least 15 men enter the tournament from here. Anyone desiring information concerning the tournament may obtain the same from President G. G. Forquer, Grove City, or Dummy Gillette, Oil City, secretary. From the interest shown toward tennis in Grove City, it is probable that a town tournament will be held within the next two months. Assessors in various voting districts of the county in boroughs and townships are now returning their registry lists to the office of the county commissioners.

Under the law, all must be returned by September 8. September 7 is the last date on which a voter may be assessed to participate in the fall election, in these districts. Wednesday, July 20, was the last day on which voters could be assessed and registered in order to vote in the September primary.

Voters may however, be registered to vote in the fall election up until ten days previous to that election, by calling at the office of the county commissioners and going through the required formalities, such as showing evidence of assessment and payment of county taxes within the requirements of the law.

The requirements governing the voters of New Castle are slightly different, in that they will have no opportunity to be registered until September. There will be three days in that month, September 1, 6 and 10 on which the registrars will be at the various polling places in New Castle to register all voters that have in their possession the legal and required tax receipts.

Several garages were swept into swollen streams, and the highways were littered with rocks and mud washed down from the hills.

A settlement has been reached in which the plaintiff recovered for damages to his automobile amounting to $137.15 and for the loss of time, etc. The accident occurred June 15, 1927, on East Washington street and was alleged by the plaintiff to have been due to the careless, reckless and negligent manner in which the baking truck was being driven.

Ayres Is Completing 39 Years Of Service With Local Firm

William G. Ayres, head of the rug, drapery and carpet department of the Brown & Hamilton Company, which today closes its long career as a purveyor to the needs of the people of this city in house furnishings, dry goods, etc., probably holds the local record for consecutive years of employment with the same mercantile concern.

Mr. Ayres, who is one of the best known salesmen and department managers in this city, first entered the employ of Brown & Hamilton under the men who established the store in this community on August 15, 1888, as an errand boy. Had the store remained in business until August 15 next, his continuous term of service with that concern would have been exactly 39 years. As it is, it is within about three weeks of that phenomenal record.

Gradually, because he followed his chosen profession with diligence, Mr. Ayres was advanced to the position of department head, which position he has held for many years.

Mr. Ayres stated this morning that in his long years of service he had seen many changes in merchandising methods, materials, prices and a great increase in the lines of merchandise handled. He had also witnessed many changes in the personnel of the store, where he started as a boy. He has a number of excellent opportunities for the future under consideration, he also stated today, and it is probable that it will be but a short time until he will again be appearing before the buying public of this city in his new occupation.

Summons Police Taxi To Get Night's Lodging: Is Ordered From Town

Russell Rhodes, Pittsburgh, came to New Castle last night and was given a night's lodging behind the bars. Today Mayor Dunlap ordered him to leave unless he desired to pay a fine of $25 or spend 60 days in jail.

Rhodes has been here before, and according to police he is regarded as suspicious; at least, that is the charge that police docketed against him.

He told East Washington street young men with whom he became acquainted that he had no place to sleep, and they told him: "C'mon home with us. We'll call a police and they'll take you to the police station for a night's lodging."

Rhodes told this story to the mayor today.

"So you think that all we have to do is to send an auto after you, eh?" inquired the mayor, the heat of anger jumping from his eyes. "Why didn't you walk into the station house while you were downtown?"

Russell didn't answer.

"I'll tell you what I'll do," said the mayor. "I'll fine you $25 or give you 60 days in jail unless you leave for Pittsburgh."

Rhodes did not lose any time departing.

Reveals Several Kinds Of Alcohol

Almost As Many Kinds Of Alcohol As Members Of Smith Family

(International News Service)
STATE COLLEGE, Pa., July 23.—There are almost as many varieties of alcohol now as members of the Smith family, due to chemical researches. Bruce K. Brown, of the Commercial Solvents Corporation, told the members of the chemical institute of the American Chemical Society here today.

The three types of alcohol most widely used prior to 1920, Brown said, were wood, ethyl and amyl alcohols. These were derivatives of wood, grain and fusel oil.

Since 1920, however, alcohol is being derived from crude oil, natural gas and other manufacturing processes. The varieties have been more than triple, as far as commercial uses are concerned, Brown said.

AIR MAIL ENDS TRIP BY TRUCK

Credit building and character are like the Siamese twins, you cannot kill one without killing the other. They are a priceless possession which follow you through life and will be your best friend in the hour of adversity. ## PETERS ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

Free Until Frost
Peter laughed—laughed until the tears rolled down his cheeks. "I have heard of mud pies—in fact, I've made them myself—but never of any that were filled with frogs. Reminds me of—"

"Four and twenty blackbirds Baked in a pie! When that pie was open The birds began to sing. Wasn't that a pretty dish. To put before a king?" "A very jolly song, Froggie. Do you know it?" "No, I don't and I don't want to," said he. "It sounds like a lot of nonsense to me. How could birds sing so they had been baked in a pie? Now I just told you something that is really so and you are making fun of me. I am sure of it."

"Anyhow, what do I care about any of your old Two-Leg songs when my own people are making such wonderful music? Just listen to that melody! Isn't it beautiful? 'Glug! Glug! Keree!' I simply can't stay and talk to you any longer. This is the first of the Spring concerts and I am washing my breath in words instead of song. I must leave you to add my voice to the happy chorus."

"Oh, Froggie, don't go yet. The night is still young. You will have lots of time to make all the music you want to before day dawns." pleaded the Boy. "Why, your friends will be so hoarse tomorrow morning that they will not be able to croak! There are so many, many things I want to ask you: 'How you can breathe without any air? How long does it take a little frog to grow up? Do you really and truly swallow your old coats? If—'"

"Suffering tadpoles! I should say you did want to know things!" exclaimed Froggie. "It would take me half the night to answer those questions properly and I am not going to miss all the evening's fun for you. Come around tomorrow morning. Two-Legs! I shall be sitting in the shallows when the sun is highest. Then I shall be glad to talk to you. I have made up my mind not to say another word now, though. Nothing can keep me longer away from the folks. 'Glug! Glug! Kerplunk! How merry am I! Free! Free from now until frost comes'"

SOLUTIONS

Solution Yesterday's Puzzle

Off hopped Froggie. Peter couldn't see where the fellow went but in a second he heard his familiar croak rise above all the others a little way down the bank.

Perhaps the noise had been just as loud all the time he had been talking to Froggie, but he had been so interested in what the fellow had been saying he hadn't noticed it. Now, however it seemed to the Boy that there must be a thousand throats each doing its very best to make its song the loudest. Croak! Pipe! Grunt! Trill! Warble!

"Oh, this is dreadful!" groaned Peter. "And the Frogs call it music! I shall be deaf if I stay here much longer." Clapping his hand to his ears, away Peter ran.

Next: "A Boy's Friend and a Beetle's Foe."

Majority Of Motor Club Members Veto Traffic Signal

Results Of Questionnaires Sent Membership Of Motor Club Strong Against Light

ELLWOOD CITY, July 23.—Some time ago questionnaires were sent to the members of the Ellwood City Motor Club as a result of some little dissension regarding the re-establishing of the traffic signal light at the corner of North and Line avenues.

During the past two days replies have come pouring in and out of 275 members about 10 were in favor of keeping the light. The balance expressed views emphatically, some stating that a right-hand turn should be permitted at all times. Some others stated that no light was needed and that a warning signal would be sufficient.

The light was turned on by request of residents of the North Side and has been the cause of much comment on account of the steep grade approaching it from Ellwood City and necessitating much confusion in stopping when the red signal is on. "No matter how expert a driver is," stated one man, "he has to watch his step when starting a geared car on a hill."

It is not known just what steps the Motor Club will take in regard to the letters of their members, but the president, B. J. Bell, arrives in town this evening and will probably consult the other officials of the club regarding action.

Present Scalps At Scout Camp

Awards Are Made To Boys At Camp Phillips On Friday Evening.

TERRIFIC RAIN DELUGES CAMP

Presentation of Honor Scalps is an event that is highly treasured by all scouts and long lived in their memories and all scouts turned out en masse at Camp Phillips to witness this important ceremony last night.

Scores of visitors had braved rains and muddy country roads and their presence among the campers helped to make the scalp ceremony a success.

Because of the wrath of Jupiter Pluvius the meeting took place in the auditorium. Scout Executive J. Lee Calahan spoke briefly and interestingly, then called upon W. R. Erwin of the Scout Council to make the award.

In the first ceremony of the third period 29 scouts were called to wear the insignia of a Wayseeker, the first step on the trail leading to seven other degrees along the path of scout knowledge. The recipients of the brown scalps were Ken Bollinger, Frank Dorsey, Sam Gazia, Hans Holm, Bob Morrison, Wayne Reese, Julius Sacripant, Charles Wolfe, Earl Rodgers, Boyd Davis, Guy Gazia, Warren Hessler, Stanley Minner, Carl Renner, John Sento, Chester Caldwell, Clare Ebert, Elwin Richards, Dave Long, Gerald Newton, Andy Rabie, Charles Criss, Frank Goff, Tom Hawkins, Norbert Lindner, Harry Norton, Henry Saperhas and George Von Berg.

To this large class of happy boys Mr. Erwin addressed suitable words of commendation. The next camp degree, that of the Pathfinder, was bestowed upon Tom Trodden, John of a Runner, to Robert Howe, that of a Scout, to George Pander, Ted Ropp, the patrol leader of the New Bedford troop was made a Sashman and received an ovation.

The Grand Sashmen Scalps were presented to Jack Stone, Indian village leader and possessor of the Eagle Scout rank and to Ed Jenkins the assistant leader in the Indian village. Both these scouts have done unusually well in their scout proficiency. John Boston was invested with the higher rank of a "Sagamore" for the winning of which a combination of advanced knowledge and thorough practice or scouting is required.

The high point scorer for the day was Dave Nesbitt with 185 honor points. Weldon Henry and Bill Renner both tied for second place with 180 points. Like real Indians versed in living in the open Ed Jenkins, Bob Jameson, Stanley Minner and John Hancher had their teepee dry warm and cozy, adverse elements of the day and their fury had no terrors for these Indian villagers.

New Game is a Hummer.

A new game which has struck a note of enthusiastic comment is the "indoor baseball dart," played with pointed darts aimed at a baseball board four by four feet with the players standing at a distance of 25 feet. The first game was played by the boys of Dave Thompson and Dan Boone resulting in the victory of the Thompsons by a score of 6 to 2. The game is being directed by Junior Officer James W. Charbonnier. During intervals in which Old Sol smiled a little on the camp, open air games were indulged in. A game of mush ball umpired by Assistant Camp Director Knally, the team of the Thompson stockade won over the Dan Boone by a score of 6 to 2 the winning team being Sowash, Richards, Smith, Goff, Nesbitt, Parker, Bollinger and Kaufman.

Another mush ball game directed by Ken Atkinson between the Thompsons and the Indians the latter topped by a score of 22 to 5.

The Dan Boone and Kit Carson were contestants in a mush ball game with the triumph of the latter by 40 points to 22. On account of weather conditions the two swimming periods were omitted today but time passed quickly with the scouts playing in their stockade checkers and other table games as well as with the study of Merit Badge subjects.

First place for inspection was won by Mrs. Carrie E. Poister hut of the Davy Crockett stockade, Baldy Watson leader. The remarkable record was set by this hut of being the first place winner for three consecutive days in one week, a record which has not been established since the founding of Camp Phillips.

At supper time the boys were regaled with ice cream it being the gift of the superintendents of the Shelby tube mills through the courtesy of Mr. McElmonds.

Camp Director Norton and his staff are preparing a week of unusual events beginning with the first part of the coming week at which visitors will be cordially invited. Detailed schedule will be announced Monday.

Special Message By Rev. George Landis

Will Examine Famous Book By Dr. Stanley Jones Sunday
Evening In First Baptist

Rev. George M. Landis, pastor of the First Baptist church has prepared an unusually interesting message which he will present at the Sunday evening services at 8 o'clock.

Rev. Landis will preach on the theme "Is the Christ of the Indian Road?" He will examine in the light of the Scriptures the famous book entitled "The Christ of the Indian Road" by Dr. Stanley Jones. Few books in recent years have so captivated the religious readers of the world. In about two years this book has been published in over twenty editions.

Its viewpoint concerning the subject of Christian missions, the gospel, the needs of the pagan world, is quite different from the viewpoint generally held.

The book is being much discussed and many questions are being asked concerning it.

Now-Even Lower Prices! -YET STILL GREATER BEAUTY!

Amazing increase in Pontiac Six value made possible by the economies of the world's newest and finest motor car factory

The announcement last week of a smarter, more beautiful Pontiac Six at surprising price reductions was an unexpected sensation. High quality and low prices had been winning thousands to the Pontiac Six. Sales had been breaking all records—140% greater since January 1st than the corresponding period of last year!

Yet, due to the economies of increasing production in the mammoth new $12,000,000 Pontiac Six plant, savings were being effected. And these were passed to the public, not merely in the form of a history-making reduction——but with the additional value represented in fashionable new Duco color combinations.

So now the Pontiac Six is not only the lowest priced six—but the only low-priced six—offering:

—the smartness, luxury and safety of Bodies by Fisher—the extreme-smoothness, power, and stamina of the largest engine used in any six priced up to $1,000—the long life and economy assured by an oiling system which forces 250 gallons of oil an hour through the engine at 35 m.p.h.—and such convenience features as tilting beam headlights with foot control, and VV windshield!

These are vital factors which every buyer of a low-priced six has a right to expect. They are only a few of the features which make today's Pontiac Six a triumph of modern design and efficient production! Come in! Learn how much MORE you get for your money in the Pontiac Six at new low prices!

Transforms City Lots Into Excellent City Golf Course

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, July 23.—Maurice J. McCarthy, golf architect of rare skill and long experience, has built an attractive golf course in the heart of the residential section of Brooklyn—an achievement that is without parallel anywhere in the United States.

Apartment buildings and homes form the background of this unique course, known as the Old Flatbush Golf Club. It covers fifty-three acres, and has nine holes with a yardage of 3,065, half of a regulation championship course.

Brooklyn business and professional men can get to the course in a few minutes. No long drive to a "country" club is necessary. Doctors, lawyers and business men leave their telephone numbers at the Old Flatbush office and in the event of an emergency summons can be back in their offices in five or ten minutes.

A Handy Place
"Any city of size in the country could have something as handy as this," said Mr. McCarthy. Many cities have vacant property, or property with a few dilapidated buildings on it located near their downtown or in residential sections that could be quickly transformed into real beauty spots and at the same time provide its business men with relaxation—easily accessible and saving them much valuable time.

Doctors are daily summoned from the Old Flatbush course to perform operations, and as soon as their duty is done they return and play another nine holes. The time saving value of the course has become widely known and many business men play it every day.

An old baseball ground, a place where the circus used to come annually, a piece of ground dotted with a few unsightly buildings and rickety homes—that was what this beautiful golf course was a few years ago. The owner of the property, William E. Harmon, millionaire real estate man and golf lover, got an idea he would like to make it into a golf course. His friends smiled and regarded him askance.

Called Preposterous
"Preposterous," they told him. But he called in McCarthy. "I first thought of making the place into Italian sunken gardens and I will if you say you can't make a golf course out of it," said Harmon. McCarthy looked the property over on October 1, 1924.

"I'll make you a golf course here," said McCarthy quietly.

And he did. By November 3, a month and two days after he looked the ground over, the course was built and seeded. Nine months later, July 25, 1925, it was playable, and would have been in operation sooner had not the city unexpectedly cut a $3,000,000 sewer through the property.

The course today is as handsome as any in the New York district, splendidly trapped and bunkered, stretching over four city blocks and about the only "regular" playing it that can break par, 36, is the veteran golf architect's son, Maurice McCarthy, Jr., the 20 years old winner of the Long Island Amateur championship and heralded as one of the future greats in American golf.

Foster's Weather Prognostication

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Storm wave that was expected to cross the continent during week centering on July 21, of only moderate intensity of storm force, was to be followed by a moderate cool wave centering on 24; this cool wave will be general over the continent but will not be one of the dangerously low temperature periods of the season. From July 19 to end of month, average temperatures will be expected to trend upward; during and following storm period centering on 21, an area of high barometric pressure will be expected to extend its area until July 28, when it will be expected to practically cover the southern half of continent, causing a short period of excessively high temperature in middle and southern parts of great central valleys centering on 28; this period of dry heat, following a period that is expected to average cool and wet, will furnish ideal conditions for breeding of insect pests; this period of dry heat will probably be the warmest of the season.

A storm wave of moderate intensity is expected to cross continent during week centering on July 29; this storm center will be expected to travel the northern transcontinental storm path and to have little effect in southern latitudes. As this storm center crosses continent, a general movement toward lower temperatures is expected to take place. The downward trend of temperatures will extend thru the period of July 29 to August 5, at which latter date, temperatures will average considerably below normal generally. Details of August forecasts will appear in next weekly bulletin.

Misplaced Efficiency.
It has been very disappointing to read that Dr. Charles G. Abbot, able scientist of the Smithsonian institute, was leaving for the west coast to further his studies and perfect his inventions relative to heat and light received from distant stars and the measurement of these forces. Many years ago the most able and progressive meteorologist of the United States weather bureau was sent to study the drought areas of southwestern deserts; shortly after he, Prof. Frank H. Bigelow, located with a South American republic and has added many laurels to southern hemisphere scientific research. Dr. Abbot is capable of accomplishing unlimited benefits for future generations of North America thru his studies of sun's heat radiation. Let us hope that he will soon return to this more useful subject and be given every possible cooperation, both official and Smithsonian, scientific and financial. As received upon this earth, the relation of sun's heat to that of distant stars (suns), is very small. Distant stars do not materially effect the movement of force within our planetary system. It is a crime against posterity that such an able mind, supposedly in an independent position, should waste his valuable efforts in such a chase around the proverbial Robinhood's Barn. Einstein discovered that a teaspoonful of a certain distant star would weigh several tons within the earth's atmosphere, according to his calculations; interesting reading, but the benefit from this discovery, like the proof of same, is extremely questionable.

Mrs. S. A. White and family of the New Castle-Ellwood highway had the great pleasure this week of entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bowden and son William and daughter Gladys of Upland, Calif., where Wilbur White made his home for several years, being associated with Mr. Bowden in the fruit business.

On Thursday of this week Mrs. White's nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Calderwood, of Cleveland, and Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Calderwood of New Castle, were guests at the White home.

Grant Riden of Zellenople, came to Gardner last Friday to the home of his sister, Mrs. John Clapper, bringing his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Laird, and daughter Alberta of Ellwood City, and their niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Fairbank of Lewistown, Pa. The latter couple going later to Cleveland.

On Monday Mr. and Mrs. Peck and daughter Doris of Lewistown, were guests at the Clapper home. William Zehner of the New Castle-

Ellwood highway, and daughters Misses Florence and Isabel, called on Mr. and Mrs. Willard Kennedy of Gardner, last Sunday afternoon.

Paul Nye of North Sewickley, will be the speaker next Sunday afternoon at the county home.

The heavy rain on Friday morning has caused the picnic of the East New Castle Mission, to be postponed until next week. The day to be decided later.

WATERLOO, N. Y., July 23.—There's nothing original about a marriage ceremony in the air according to Mrs. Mary A. Boynton of Waterloo who looks upon these airplane weddings as "old stuff." For Mrs. Boynton, widow of Dr. John A. Boynton noted geologist, became a bride 56 years ago in a balloon scension from Central Park, New York city. That method was Mrs. Boynton's own suggestion. Even as now the legality of a marriage in the air was questioned at that time.

Another Has Been

"SENORITA OF THE SHAWLS"

"Senorita of the Shawls" is the title bestowed upon this San Francisco educated Guatemalan maid, who has returned to the United States, after having been elected queen of beauty in a contest open to all girls of Central America at Guatemala City. She brought with her a very valuable collection of Spanish shawls. Hence the title. She is Miss Elita Parraga, prominent in San Francisco Bay society as well as in Guatemala.

PREMIER, NOT BOY KING, RULES IN ROUMANIA

Since the ending of the colorful and turbulent career of King Ferdinand of Roumania by death, it has become evident that the real ruling power of the land is not, of course, the five-year-old grandson of the King who succeeded to the throne as King Michael I, or any other member of the royal family, but Premier Ion Bratianu. Above are pictures of the chief actors in this unusual royal drama, which the world has been observing with intense interest. At the very top, the artist has sketched high spots of Ferdinand's reign. He was the lone Hohenzollern to stand with the Allies in the World War. In the center is Michael, boy king, whose mother is Princess Helen, eldest daughter of the late King Constantine of Greece. To his left, the last portrait of the late King Ferdinand before his last lingering fatal illness. To the right is Premier Bratianu. Below, left to right, are: Queen Marie, whom Americans know first-hand; Prince Carol, father of Michael, who renounced the throne to go his own way in Paris; Princess Ileana, and Prince Nicholas, aunt and uncle of the new monarch, the prince also being one of the three regents named to protect the interests of the throne.

ANOTHER HELEN WILLS

Helen Wills, of California, Wimbledon champion, has a cousin of the same name in Atlanta, Ga., who also is a tennis star. As yet, however, the Georgia Helen doesn't possess any titles. She is shown in the large photo; Cousin Helen's famed "poker face" is inset.

Freak Platform

Miss Evelyn Smith, candidate for mayor of Binghamton, N. Y., has a freak platform. If elected she will, she says, ignore political considerations and make appointments to office on a basis of psychological fitness.

Rout Nicaraguans

Captain D. G. Hatfield, top photo, is the commander of the Marine detachment that routed the revolting Nicaraguan forces of General Sandino at Ocotal, Nicaragua. Below is Major Ross E. Rowell, leader of the bombing squadron that attacked the Nicaraguans from the air, raking them with machine gun fire and scattering them with bombs.

BABIES FOR RENT—OR SALE

Babies for rent at $8 to $12 a day, or for sale at from $250 to $1,200, C. O. D. Those are prevailing quotations on New York's baby mart according to Miss Mary E. Hamilton, writer, who, as the city's first policewoman, has had many experiences with "baby dealers." Says Miss Hamilton: "Some of the babies are rented to beggars for easier panhandling; others are used for blackmailing, shop-lifting and bootlegging. Along Riverside Drive, dope and booze peddlers hide their wares in a baby carriage and cover them with an infant. And women who cannot normally get lodgings in respectable quarters, come around with a baby and tell a story about the father being on the road." Pictures above are of Miss Hamilton and, below, of a child alleged in court to have been sold for $40.

40 Years of It

In July, 1887, F. A. Miller, then a youth of 20, joined the staff of the South Bend, Ind., Daily Tribune as a reporter. Recently he celebrated his fortieth year of continuous service with the paper, of which he is now the editor and publisher.

Allowed Whipping

Mayor C. A. McIntyre of San Toy, O., above, gave Ray Wiggins the choice of prison or a flogging when an angry crowd demanded him from the mayor after Wiggins had bitten off his mother-in-law's ear. Wiggins agreed to sign a contract to be flogged as the penalty and the largest man in the crowd gave him 21 heavy lashes.

LEVIATHAN IS DRYDOCKED FOR IMPROVEMENTS

America's merchant queen, the Leviathan, is shown in drydock at South Boston, Mass., receiving two new propellers similar to two others put on several months ago, in order to reduce fuel costs and cause less vibration. Complete repainting, as well as renovations, will make the huge vessel seem "almost new."

FLYERS OUT TO SMASH WORLD FLIGHT RECORD

To lower the present round-the-world flight record from 28 to 15 days is the ambition of two Detroit flyers who plan to hop-off on a globe circling trip August 15. They are shown above with their plane, a Stinson-Detroiter powered by a single Wright Whirlwind motor. They are Billie Brock, left, chief pilot of the Wayco Air Service, Inc., and E. F. Schlee, president of the company.

Brave Beauty

Lady Richmond Brown, noted English beauty who achieved fame as an explorer as a result of daring expeditions into Central America and Africa, is preparing to make another trip through the little known recesses of Central America.

Dryers Disagree

Bishop James Cannon and the Rev. Arthur J. Barton, Anti-Saloon League powers, are joint authors of a statement broadcast through the South, denying that Wayne B. Wheeler (above), dry generalissimo, spoke for the League when he threatened the Democrats with a third candidate if they nominated Al Smith. Politicians see in the statement evidence of discord in the reform organization.

PICTURES DISCLOSE DISPUTED BLOW AS FAIR ONE

Dempsey Given His Due Credit

Writer Pans Sharkey For Being Dumb And Not Protecting Self.

MOVING PICTURES DECIDE QUESTION

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service
NEW YORK, July 23.—Official motion pictures of the Dempsey-Sharkey fight, disputed blows and all disclose several interesting facts today, not the least of which is that Jack Sharkey probably is even a greater dolt than I suspected him of having been on Thursday night, which is doing beyond the dreams of avarice. Another is that Jack Dempsey, old and badly shot in the under-pinning still was able to make the grand gesture in this, one of his last appearances under fire, and that, therefore, I am not the one to discredit the performance with belated cries of fake, foul or farce.

Won on Merits
The pictures show that Dempsey won the fight on its merits, first, because Sharkey was not hurt badly by that last right hand to the body and, second, because Sharkey wasn't the man to take care of himself when he did think he was fouled.

According to the slow motion evidence, Dempsey drove three or four right hand punches on or near the belt line. With the third, Sharkey appeared to lift himself in pain and, perforce, the next punch was low. It seemed to land on the trunk, and Sharkey's knees gave with it.

But to show that the punch was by no means mortal, he immediately turned his head toward the referee in protest, an expression of annoyance rather than pain on his face. With the jaw thus exposed Dempsey's left uppercut couldn't miss the mark and it didn't.

Sharkey Wide Open
I have no illusions about Jack Dempsey's ring courtesy. He is in there swinging until they make him stop. But I doubt that the last left was swung with the idea of taking advantage of Sharkey's lapse in self protection. The action was too rapid for even a vagrant thought on the subject. What Dempsey was carrying through was the one-two punch and Sharkey offered his jaw obligingly for the second one.

Perhaps, of course, I am a very credulous specimen, willing to believe that Santa Claus is clean shaven. Perhaps I am wrong in refusing to believe eighty-five per cent of the gossip I hear. Therefore, I hope I may be pardoned for stating that I believe if a low punch was struck it was both unintentional and certainly not pre-arranged.

Yet the usual "in the bag" stories are being bandied about today. Aided and sustained by the sudden shift in the betting odds from Sharkey to Dempsey. The word now is that every bookmaker on Broadway got his money down on Dempsey because the tip had gone out that Jack had to win in order to keep Rickard's heavyweight situation hot.

No Protest Offered.
Why, they ask, didn't Sharkey protest the twenty early fous Dempsey committed? After looking at both the fight and the pictures, I will say that if Sharkey was fouled twenty times I stand willing to let the first man that comes along foul me twenty times. Two questionable punches were struck by Dempsey but neither was effective enough itself to influence the outcome.

Why, another question demands, did Sharkey's manager sit quietly during the outrage without making the slightest protest? I can answer that one. Sharkey's manager did nothing, if anything should have been done, because he was too busy trying to protect himself.

UPAN ADAM

"Chicago fighter takes ring name of Walcott Langford. Which is another slap at Harry Wills."

Jack Sharkey's manager is Jack Sharkey and the fighter-manager, even unofficially, ever was a mistake, as witness Willard in Toledo, Firpo at the Polo Grounds and Dempsey himself in Philadelphia. No one in the corner dares make a move without consulting the boss and I defy all consultations with a man like Dempsey making motions at you.

Sharkey's fight was lost strictly by himself, not through per-arrangement, for Belasco himself couldn't have stage-managed those dramatics, and not in the boxer's corner. He lost it by playing Dempsey's own game, as more than a week ago I suspected he might, purely as the grandstander he is. Then, after slugging it out for three rounds, he probably found he couldn't play any other game, even if he wished.

And then as the final faux pas, he exposed his jaw to appeal to the referee. Taking nothing from Dempsey, for I still am thrilled by the great effort he made, I must continue to feel that with any kind of intelligent direction in the opposite corner, Dempsey would not have won. The pictures show him for what he is—a game, eternally fighting man with a tough jaw, a hard punch and the speed of a club foot.

Dempsey stalked Sharkey from first to last and I watched his legs with absorbed interest. Stiff in the knees, flat in the feet, they had the jerky, almost rheumatic movement of a wooden soldier.

And Sharkey let a man like Dempsey catch him.

Dempsey Poisoned By Sandwiches, But Attack Proves Mild

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, July 23.—There came near being another recurrence of a Dempsey "poisoning" story before the Sharkey fight. When Jack and his traveling companions boarded the train in Albany, coming down from Saratoga last Wednesday, Trainer Jerry Lavadis bought a bag of sandwiches. Several members of the party including Dempsey and Leo Flynn, were seized with cramps after eating the sandwiches.

One of Dempsey's sparring partners became so ill he was obliged to cancel his appearance in one of the fights at the stadium Thursday night. Dempsey suffered what amounted to a mild attack of ptomaine poisoning but applied prompt remedies and was feeling fit again a few hours after arriving in New York.

Philadelphia Men Appeal For Bout

Seek To Have Tunney-Dempsey Fight Again At Sesqui-Centennial Grounds

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, July 23.—While fight experts here and in New York debated the fairness of Dempsey's punches in the fatal seventh round of Thursday night's fight with Sharkey, influential Philadelphians made a strong effort to have the return Dempsey-Tunney bout staged in the Sesqui stadium here.

Albert M. Greenfield and Frank Wiener, chairman of the Pennsylvania state athletic commission, appealed to Tex Rickard to stage the fight here, but no definite answer has been received.

Mayor Freeland Kendrick was urged today to lend his aid in bringing the bout to the scene of the first Dempsey-Tunney match, where the champion was crowned last September.

The loss of the July 4 doubling-header to those two bespectacled Pirate hurlers, Meadows and Hill, was a blow to the Cardinal catcher pilot, but he must get a lot of consolation out of his "four-eyed" athlete "Specs" Toporcer who is capably filling in the gap at short stop made when Tommy Thevenow broke his ankle in an unnecessary slide a month ago.

The Cardinals may not retain their National League pennant but they are a great and a game team and their pitching quartette of Rhem, Haines, Alexander and Sherdel is about the best foursome of any team in the league. Iron and steel are two of the chief producers of the mound city and

Tunney And Rickard To Discuss Bout For Heavyweight Crown

All Indications Point To Dempsey-Tunney Battle In Chicago Arena.

Soldier's Memorial Stadium In Windy City Will Seat 120,000.

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, July 23.—Just before noon today Gene Tunney, heavyweight champion, and Billy Gibson, his manager, were to meet in conference with Tex Rickard in Madison Square Garden to discuss possible locations and dates for the second title fight between Tunney and Jack Dempsey.

Dempsey was not to be present but he had assured Rickard previously that any arrangements were satisfactory to him.

Jack made only one request. "Make it as late as you possibly can, Tex," he suggested. "I want three or four weeks for a vacation in California. I won't need more than two weeks of steady training for this next one for I have been working hard for four months and the Sharkey fight got a lot of rust off me. I will be back around the second week in August."

It is almost certain now that the title affair will be staged in Chicago in Soldier's Memorial stadium, which seats 120,000. It will be made a spectacle calculated to draw patronage from all over the middle west at prices that will set a new record. Rickard expects to haul in more than $2,000,000 on this one.

The official announcement may be forthcoming almost any day. Negotiations were opened some time ago and continued Thursday and yesterday by the promoter and several Chicago men who came on to see the fight. Among them were Edward J. Kelly, president of the South Park board, which controls the huge stadium on the lake front. It is understood that Rickard has agreed to pay $100,000 for the use of the stadium and has been assured of freedom from interference and the cooperation of strong political interests.

There's safety in numbers. Snoring never suggests homicide if it's a duet instead of a solo.

With so many improvements in the kitchen, it's strange that nobody has invented an automatic can opener.

There are lower, middle and upper classes, distinguished by the sum the 'dies nav for their beads.

Leading Major League Hitters

(International News Service)
WILMINGTON, Del., July 23.—Accompanied by his partner, Jerry Lavadis, Jack Dempsey, who conquered Jack Sharkey, paid a flying visit to the home of the mother and grandparents of his wife Estelle Taylor, in this city last night before leaving for Los Angeles, Cal.

Dempsey said he wanted it made plain that he is not dodging process servers and that he made the trip from New York to this city by motor although he declined to tell about the route he used.

Asked regarding the alleged foul blow the former champion was reluctant to discuss the matter but declared that Referee O'Sullivan had declared the blow legal and that settled the matter as far as he is concerned.

HALL OF FAME

By NORMAN E. BROWN

Nominating Heinie Schulte.

Because he joins the list of famous "Heinies" who have come up to the major leagues—many of them to star. Because he played away at Danville in the Three-Eye league like a Trojan in the belief that it would take several years of that kind of labor to lift him into the big leagues.

Because he read of the injuries to Thevenow and Bell of the world's champion Cardinals with the thrill that comes to a young lad seeking to emulate such stars but never dreaming that said accidents would affect him.

Because he was knocked flat when the Danville owners handed him a ticket to St. Louis the other day and told him to report to the aforesaid Cardinals.

Because he was an unknown at 2 p. m. the day he arrived—and on his road to fame at 3:15.

Because, shoved into the shortfield job without delay, he made good with a vengeance.

And because, at the tender age of 18 he faces a long and brilliant career—if he hangs on to himself.

Maybe the longing for a "good neighborhood" is just a desire to live among your betters.

Charity begins at home by accumulating enough money to have a surplus for charity.

With Jameson and Mels hurling today's double-header, the former Sharon boy will be ready to go in the Agathon battle. It is possible that Bryan will go behind the bat next Tuesday. The peppery little Toledo catcher has been laid up for several days with a wrenched shoulder.

Tomorrow afternoon the New Castle-Youngstown team will play an exhibition game at Youngstown, with the Cuban Giants as the attraction. The game will start at 3 o'clock eastern standard time.

Lucas Pitches One-Hit Game

Cincinnati Reds Hurler With in Shadows Of No-Run-No-Hit Game.

LEACH'S HOMER DEFEATS CUBS

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, July 23.—Two "red-heads"—Pitcher Lucas of Cincinnati and Outfielder Leach of the Phillies—are the heroes of the National League. "Red of the Reds" pitched a one-hit game against Brooklyn yesterday, while Leach's home run with the bases full knocked the Cubs into second place as the Pirates again took the lead.

Lucas should have been credited with a no-hit game, in the opinion of many fans who saw the game. The only hit made against him was an easy grounder which rolled through Critt's legs. Lucas retired the first twenty-batters in order and only twenty-eight men in all faced him. He did not walk or hit a batter.

The Reds won the game 3 to 0 at the expense of Dazzy Vance. After parking in the cellar for most of the season, the Porkville boys have been going like a house afire on their eastern trip and are only three games from fifth place, their present goal.

The Phils made it two straight against the Cubs, winning 6 to 5. Stephenson had a perfect day at bat with four hits.

Meanwhile the Cardinals whipped the Giants again 7 to 4 and advanced to within a game and a half of Pittsburgh and Chicago. A homer by Schubel, St. Louis rookie shortstop, turned the tide when the Cards were trailing.

The league leadership changed for the fifth time in as many days as the Pirates downed the Braves, 5 to 2, and regained first place. A four-run rally by the Bucs in the seventh, featured by triplets by the Waner Brothers, sewed up the game. "K. O." Earl Smith returned to the Pittsburgh line up.

Lyons, of the White Sox, beat the Yankees, 7 to 5, as Koenig went on a spree and made three errors. Barrett had a perfect day at bat with four hits.

The Senators tossed off two games to the Browns 7 to 6 and 3 to 2, and now trail the Yanks by thirteen games. Chickens came home to roost in the opener when Ballou and Crowder, Washington cast-offs stopped the Nats while Walter Johnson was knocked out of the box.

Zach Taylor, catcher of the Giants, was hit over the eye by a foul tip from his own bat in yesterday's game here and was carried off the field.

SORDS POINTS Grand Old Man Of The Coast

By NORMAN E. BROWN
Wonder what Harry Wills' thoughts were as Jack Dempsey and Jack Sharkey battled before the richest prize fight?

Wills, called the greatest negro fighter of the day—and possibly one of the greatest of the game—by his admirers, had flirted with the fame and fortune that came to Jack Sharkey over a few weeks almost, had even flirted with a match against first Dempsey and then Tunney—only to go down in the ring of the ring a few weeks ago still chasing the will o' the wisp in vain.

His career brought him little in the way of fortune. He steps out of the game—a has-been—with his exact status as a fighter undetermined but with the feeling general that, at his best, he was not good enough to rule the roost.

For years, after Jack Dempsey beat down the giant Willard, Wills dogged his footsteps for a match. Wills' backers hurried them challenge after challenge at Dempsey—accused him of "running out" of matches on the plea of drawing the color line.

There was but one flaw in Wills' campaign, though. He failed to realize the necessity of proving his right to a title fight by taking on the others as they came, while waiting the "big shot". Paddy Mullins' purse demands or one thing and another prevented matches that might have given Wills a chance to establish himself on secure footing.

He was matched at one time for a battle with Dempsey but it has seemed since that the signing was a mere gesture to force the hands of rival promoters.

His first real chance came when he accepted a match with Jack Sharkey in one of the early "elimination" bouts. Sharkey then lacked the experience he gained later in the tourney. He was "green" as a boxer. He had never met a real experienced fighter of any reputation.

Considering the faith Wills' adherents had in him the match seemed made to order for the so-called Black Panther. How Sharkey beat him down is well known.

Then, the other night, Harry tried a comeback fight against Paulino Uzcudun, the Spanish wood chopper. Paulino was rated, on previous showings, as a third rater. He lacked experience. He, too, dropped the lengthy Wills to the mat in decisive fashion.

And so passed the "Black Panther". He leaves no concrete evidence of his greatness. In he packed the mighty wallop, the ring skill, the boxing science and the fighting heart of a great warrior he never had the proper opportunities to show it. His misfortune if he was really great.

Birger Murder Case Is Ready For Jury Verdict

(International News Service)
BENTON, Ill., July 23.—The final curtain in southern Illinois' gangster drama was to be drawn today when the case of "Machine Gun Charlie"

Birger, Art Newman and Ray "Izzy" Hyland is handed to the jury.

The three super gunmen are charged with plotting the fatal shooting of Mayor Joe Adams of West City. Without a single defense witness having been summoned to the stand, lawyers for the defendants today contented themselves with scintillating oratorical pleas for mercy.

One sentenced murderer with no hope of clemency, Harry Thomason, told of killing Mayor Adams. He named Birger, Newman and Hyland as arch conspirators of the mayor's murder.

SOME GOOD SCORES BEING REPORTED

By PAUL E. MONTGOMERY
(News Special Correspondent)

FT. WASHINGTON, Md., July 23.—Tuesday and Wednesday Company I had its turn out on the range. A little explanation at this point will simplify matters. First we had our practice in aiming from four positions: prone, sitting, kneeling, and standing. In each position the student is allowed 30 rounds of real ammunition. Ten of these are shot from the prone position, and five rounds are fired from the sitting position.

These first fifteen shots, which are trial ones, are given on the first day at the range. The targets are 200 yards away, and the bulls-eye is ten inches in diameter.

A direct hit on the bulls-eye counts five, and so on to the outer ring, where a hit counts two. You see, we have a chance to make a 75 score, and we must make at least 56 to qualify for the medal which they give.

Thursday Company K went out and learned just how easy it is to hit a ten-inch bulls-eye. The scores ranged from the twenties to a 73. Friday our record was taken, and a lot of us must improve.

The boys that qualified in the trials were excused in the afternoon, but the others were taken out for a special drill.

Each student on the range has with him a coach. The coach watches the boy closely, and gives him his shells, etc. Every precaution is taken to be sure that there will be no accident.

We were up at 5 a. m. and had breakfast at 5:15. The air was clear and the sun was just beginning to shine on the targets. Everything was done to help the boys, and those who were at Camp Meade last year say that they have better records this year because of the special training which they have received.

Company K has won three more baseball games, making six wins and none lost. We are almost sure to get the cup which is offered. Johnny Lewis pitched a fine game on Tuesday afternoon, and Dick Thomas was the star for Company L. Lincoln Thomas has broken into the lineup several times and has always been reliable.

The boys have started to raise "Cain" tonight, but not to the extent of damaging anything; they are just working off some of the surplus energy by playing tricks on each other.

In returning to the subject of the rifle range, the "Loose" in charge told us that we were not to join the alibi squad when we learn what our score is. The alibi squad is composed of fellows who have not made good scores and blame this on their rifles. After the best rifles have been picked from each platoon, their efforts are rather futile. In the face of this Nelson Parker had the courage to say that the fellow in the pit jerked the target just as he was squeezing the trigger. We are all pretty sure that he meant it for a joke.

A sample of our mess for one day is as follows: Sliced bananas, corn flakes, bread, butter, coffee, scrambled eggs and jelly. For lunch we had cold roast beef, potatoes, bread and butter, coconut cake and ice tea.

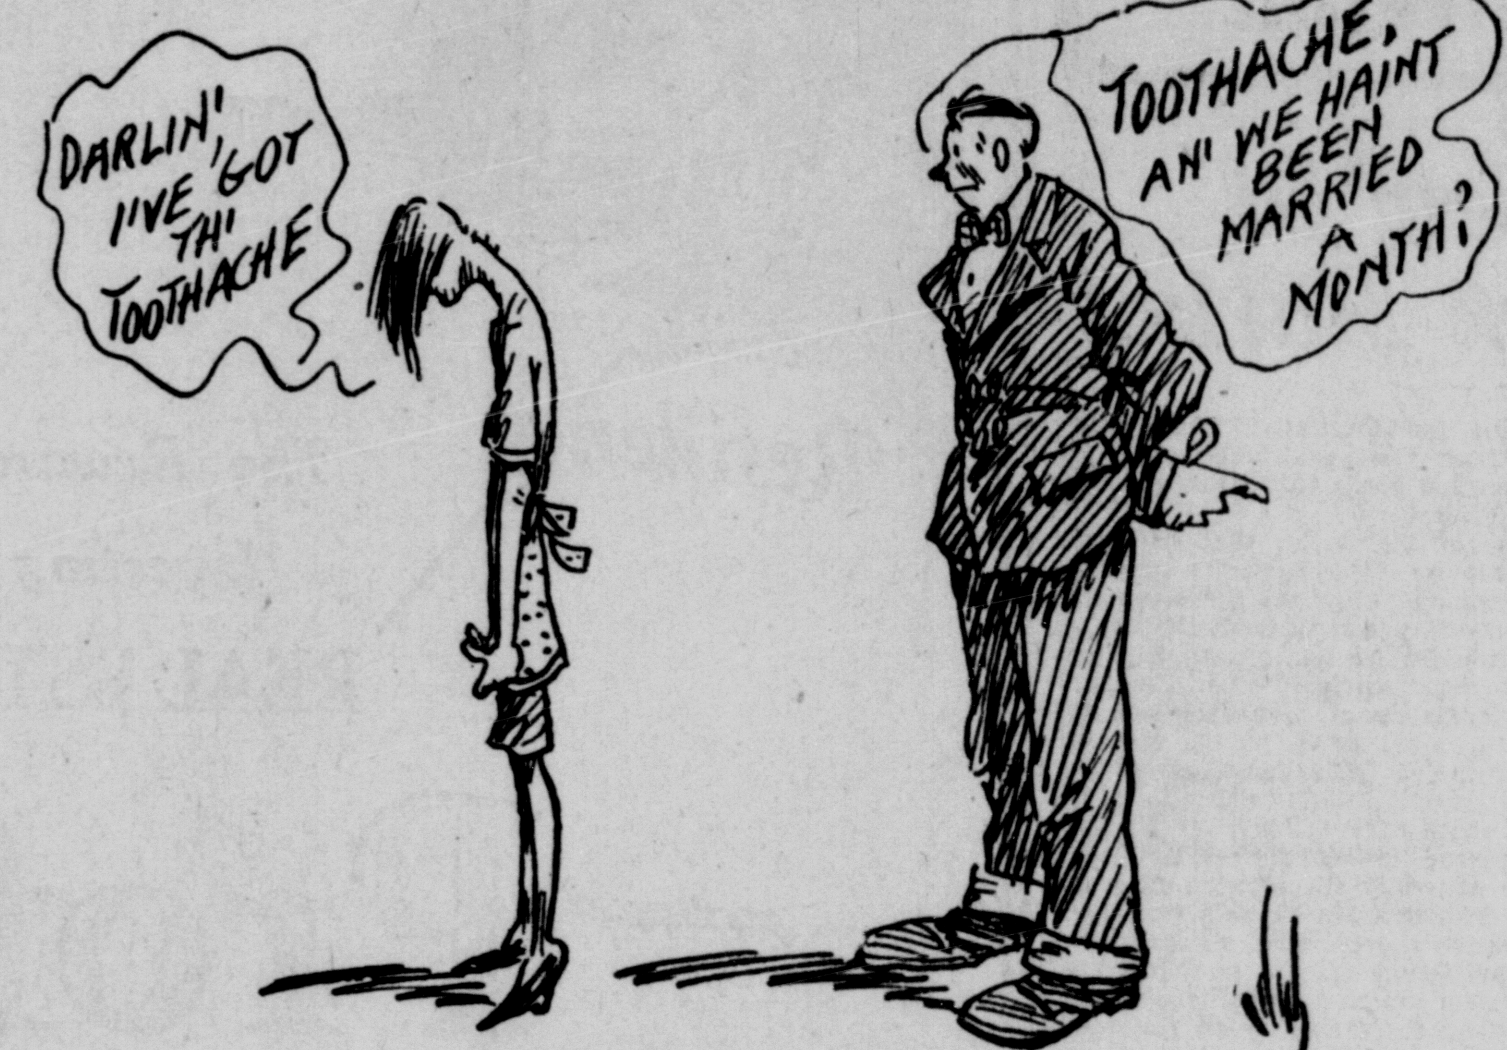

For dinner we had soup, oysterettes, boiled potatoes, scalloped corn, broiled beef steak, onion gravy, and coconut cream pie.

Dr. John J. Tigert, U. S. commissioner of education, was a great baseball and football player in his college days. His lengthy legs and arms gave him a great advantage.

Enemies' promises were made to be broken.

On Advice t' Brides

A DISCOURAGING BLOW T' ANY YOUNG HUSBAND

"This has been a great season for advice t' young brides," said Mrs. Lafe Bud today. "Th' newspapers have been full o' twaddle about makin' th' home attractive, how t' be a help-mate, how t' sympathize with young husbands, how t' encourage them, how t' anticipate th'ir ever' wish, how t' fix th'ir eggs, how to keep them out o' th' dumps and how to prevent them from realizin' they've been stung. I reckon we ought t' learn how t' smoke an' git soused with 'em an' live on nothin', an' let 'em cheat, jest t' keep 'em happy. A stranger jest droppin' in from out o' th' sky would think that marriage wuz somethin' new an' wuz jest bein' tried out like th' city manager plan, or an' oil burner, instead o' bein' one o' th' oldest an' most unsuccessful institutions we have. All this advice t' th' young bride sounds like she'd jest caught a young groundhog instead o' some hunk o' a boy. Jest fer a change, here's some advice fer th' groom:

"In th' first place, nobuddy should presume t' be a groom unless he's got th' ability t' make a good livin'. If he hain't got no ability, th' next best thing is pull enough t' hold a good job. He must have money, whether he's cute, or good lookin' or big an' manly, or whatever he is. "Don't give your wife seven or eight dollars an' tell her you want her t' look like other women. "Never say, 'I had no idea what women's clothes cost.' "Be kind an' cheerful at all times. No wife likes t' hide a new hat fer a week or two waitin' fer you t' git in the right mood before she springs it on you. "Never complain because you're not able t' save anything. You should know that no woman wants t' wear th' same dress in th' same town over three times. "A bride should go t' th' altar with her teeth in good shape, but if, in her enthusiasm, th' girl you marry has neglected t' have her teeth plugged an' an' evened up don't act buncoed.

"Another hazard is appendicitis. It's as liable t' strike th' first few months o' married life as it is later on. It's somethin' your young wife's parents could not have foreseen an' looked after. Be tender with her, an' employ only th' best surgeon. "There's no known way t' operate a home without cost. It takes gas t' cook beets, electricity fer irons an' light, groceries kin not be bought fer nothin' fer any length o' time. Even furniture must be paid for eventual-ly. Unless there's some arrangement made t' meet all o' this expense your wife's attitude toward you is liable t' change. She'll naturally wonder how she's goin' t' git any clothes. "The young feller in love who sees his married acquaintances hoppin' around happy an' whistlin' should not be misled, fer they're makin' lots o' money, or gittin' it somehow, or they wouldn't be happy an' whistlin'."

Pittsburgh Mayor Answers Demand To Oust Peter Walsh

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 23.—Mayor Charles H. Kline's answer to the demand of the Citizens' League of Pittsburgh that he oust Peter P. Walsh, Superintendent of Police, was in the hands of his secretary here today, to be given the league this afternoon.

Kline, meanwhile, had left town again, and was not expected to be back before the first of next week. The mayor's reply was expected to be made public as soon as it is turned over to the league president, the Rev. Dr. J. Alvin Orr.

Buy Calves Here For Wayne County

Some Thoroughbred Jersey Cattle To Be Shipped To Wayne County

J. E. McKeehen, county farm agent of Wayne county, and R. C. Welsh, extension dairy specialist of State College, have been visiting in Lawrence county during the last few days.

While here, Mr. McKeehen and Mr. Welsh purchased 12 thoroughbred Jersey calves for the Boys and Girls Calf Club of Wayne county. It was their intention to purchase calves from herds having records of their production over one or more years. The calves that were selected were taken from a herd of this kind and will be valuable to the members of this club. These calves will probably grow into fine cows, making a wonderful foundation for future herds.

The calves will be loaded and shipped to Wayne county on Monday.

Miners Gather For Big Picnic

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, July 23.—Union coal miners from all over western Pennsylvania were making arrangements today to attend a picnic to be held by the miners' relief conference of western Pennsylvania at Eldora Park, near Charleroi tomorrow. President John Brophy was scheduled to be the principal speaker.

Comrade Writes Eulogy To Late Joseph Reed

The following tribute to the memory of the late Joseph Reed of North Beaver township, civil war veteran, member of Battery B, First Pennsylvania Light Artillery, who passed away Wednesday at the Soldiers and Sailors Home at Erie, Pa., has been submitted by one of his comrades, Wills McCluskey of New Bedford in the home at Erie:

"Joseph Reed, a member of Cooper's Battery. He was always true to his country and God and as brave a man as ever went under the old flag. When the war ended and there were no more war clouds, he went back home to the fields he plowed and would also reap, his wife and babies to keep. But old age came on and he could not stem the tide he came the Soldiers Home and died."

Mr. McCluskey stated in his letter to The News that it was almost impossible for him to write as he was nearly blind.

NEW BEDFORD

The Cheerful Climbers Sunday school class of the M. E. church gave a party Friday evening at Town hall in honor of the Boy Scouts who won the camporee at Greensburg. A good time was enjoyed by all. Delicious refreshments were served during the evening.

The Missionary society of the Presbyterian church, including the cradle roll and primary department, held a picnic dinner in the church yard Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Gehrette of New Castle spent Tuesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Dave Zimmerman and family.

Mrs. Merle Murdock and son, Harold, spent Tuesday at West Middlesex.

Mrs. Albert Steebner and children Douglas and Winnie of Wellsville, O., are spending a few days with the former sister-in-law, Irene Steebner.

Merle Murdock left Friday evening with a party of friends for Warren, Pa., and South Dayton, N. Y., to visit the coffee mills and the canning factories at South Dayton.

Ora Mae Harry and Irene Harry are spending a few days with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Cox at New Castle.

Mrs. Effie Shields spent Wednesday in Youngstown.

Mr. and Mrs. William Moorhouse have returned to their home in Akron after a two weeks stay with relatives.

There's a bright side. Deforestation means the Saturday Evening Post can't get much heavier.
